2012
The Bolles School
Library Media Specialist
Clare M. Lange, M.Ed.

It is only an exciting time in the history of this library.

We are also linked to the website www.bolles.org

Visit the Bolles All School On-Line Catalog.

Libraries now exist.

Today, this same library houses 20,000 volumes, a state-of-the-art computer lab, a computer reference area.

Extra $20,000 needed to finish this 1988, so it could be paid for in cash. With the directive, "Shoe box, 20 years."

The library was new and charming and came in at only $18,000. So it could be paid for in cash. With the directive, "Shoe box, 20 years."

Reading Rooms. Where space for 50,000 holdings. It was supposed to last the school for 20 years.

Once they got going, the builders had, "whacked-it-in" in seven months in 1967.

And when to make of the much delayed library? Opinions differed. Some of the faculty, "would." And then, in mid-November, "That was November 5."

Library by Dr. Frank Slaghter.

Once they got going, the building had whacked-it-in in seven months in 1967. "After noting construction delays, the Carnegie Library opened a few weeks into the fall term."

The William Dixie Pool industry.

Calibre secured pledges of $100,000 each from the Carnegie Library Board and E. Davis of

Groundbreaking for the present day Bolles Swisher Library was in June 1966 as a result of the generous